Ankr : Secure Distributed Computing

Ankr is building a cheaper, securer and faster cloud using idle processing power in data centers and edge devices.

We created these guidelines to help authorized users of the Ankr Foundation's official marks represent our identity in a way that is consistent with the quality, impact and ambition of our project.

Using these marks accurately is a serious responsibility and is regulated by our brand guidelines, located at <https://www.ankr.network>. If you have any questions please contact brand@ankr.network

1.3 The Logotype

The logotype remains a constant bridge between the Ankr identity and presentation.

Its weight and letterspacing should never be altered in any way and its relationship to the Ankr Icon should be presented as established in these guidelines.
